Evaluation Results: 2019 Asia-Pacific Economic Statistics Week
17-20 June 2019, Bangkok, Thailand

Participants were from national statistical offices, central banks, development partners and private organisations of 27 countries. Survey response rate is 66% with 65 out of the 99 participants responding to the survey.

ORGANISATION

Satisfaction with services received

- 35% Agree
- 62% Strongly agree

Satisfaction with duration

- 28% Agree
- 70% Strongly agree

TOP FIVE FAVOURITE SESSIONS*

- Emerging techniques in using Big Data, 20
- What are we without our users?, 18
- Challenges in national accounts estimation, 8
- Use of administrative data, 7
- The future of price statistics, 5

Other favourite sessions and number of votes

- Increasing visibility of NSOs, 4
- New techniques for tourism statistics, 4
- Ocean economy, 4
- Creative and digital economy, 2
- Integrating data, 2
- The future of economic statistics, 2
- Agriculture-related SDGs monitoring, 1

*Note: 77 responses for the question on “what is your favorite session” was recorded. Some respondents indicated more than one favourite session.

APPLICATION & USEFULNESS

The sessions improved my capacity to produce, disseminate and communicate statistical products and services.

Knowledge gained from the sessions will help improve economic statistics in my country/organization.

98%

95%

SELECTED COMMENTS

“I love how sessions are organized in various ways. It is refreshing …”

“APES is a very fruitful platform to share ideas and developments in the field of statistics and this forum should be continued …”

“Selection of topics is the strongest point. Everything is relevant to the latest development of SDGs and challenges by NSO, NSS and statistical community …”