

Getting support for research activities in your organisation

ESCAP Resource Facility is a pool of funds that supports national statistical systems to undertake analytical and research studies for developing economic statistics. The Resource Facility is designed within the Regional Programme on Economic Statistics.

Research to help you deliver on your national priorities

The objectives of national studies should be in line with the national strategies for the development of statistics and statistical work programmes.

Your national studies are regional knowledge

National studies add to the regional knowledge base as good practices and lessons learned in developing economic statistics. They are disseminated in regional seminars and through the ESCAP knowledge sharing platform on economic statistics.

You decide the topic

- The scope of national studies can cover:
- Economic statistics topic areas, e.g. national accounts, business statistics, prices, etc.
 - Statistical infrastructure for economic statistics including pilot surveys
 - Institutional setting for economic statistics

Easy application process

Applications with short proposals can be submitted from national statistical offices in the region to the secretariat by email and on an ongoing basis.
